SENATE VOTES 4 BILLION CUT IN INCOME TAX

Final Ballot, 52 to 34;
Most Payments Due
For 20-30% Decrease
WASHINGTON, May 28
(AP)—A $4,000,000,000-a-year income tax cut was voted late today by the Senate, 52 to 34.

The bill, which reduces the payments of most taxpayers by 20 to 30 percent, now goes back to the House, which already has passed tax reduction legislation of similar nature.

There is one big difference between the two bills, however. The House voted to make the reduction retroactive to the past Jan. 1; the Senate decided to make it effective this coming July 1.

This, and other differences, probably will be ironed out in a Senate-House conference committee. Then President Truman will be confronted with the question whether he shall sign a bill he doesn't like.

Only today, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told reporters he has no idea whether the President will sign.

The Senate bill provides these percentage reductions:

30 percent off for persons whose net income, after exemptions and deductions, is $10,000 or less.

From 30 to 20 percent for persons with net incomes of $10,000 to $14,000.

20 percent for incomes of $14,000 to $19,000.

15 percent from $19,000 to $302,400.

10.5 percent on all above $302,400.

The bill also provides an additional $500 personal exemption for taxpayers over 65 years of age, and for their spouses too, if they have reached 65.

Before the final vote, the Senate slapped down, 58 to 28 an attempt by Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) to scrap the whole pending measure and substitute another.

Featured by a $100 increase in personal exemptions and a cut of two percentage points in each surtax rate. He said this would be fairer to those in the low income brackets.

Before Lucas called up his substitute, the Senate killed the following proposed amendments:

By Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) to increase the personal income tax exemption from $500 to $750 for single persons, and from $1,000 to $1,500 for married couples. The vote was 44 against to 27 for.

By McClellan, to recognize family partnerships for Federal tax purposes. This was defeated 54 to 22.

By Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) to permit the deduction for tax purposes of capital investments in business, up to $125,000 or half of

Judge Discharges Chester County Jury In Morals Case

WEST CHESTER, May 28 (AP)—An all-male jury trying George W. Bales Jr., for the second time on morals charges involving a 12-year-old girl, failed to agree on a verdict tonight and was discharged by Judge Ernest Harvey in Chester county court. The case was listed for retrial at the September term of court.

The case went to the jury early tonight after defense counsel declared the accusations against Bales, former headmaster of the closed Warmminster Montgomery academy at Three Tuns, Montgomery county, were the fabrications of a child seeking vengeance.

The prosecution countered with a demand for a clean-cut verdict of guilty.

Bales was convicted on morals charges the past year at Norristown and sentenced to 7½ to 15 years imprisonment. Later the Superior court, which ordered a new trial and the Montgomery county court granted a change of venue to Chester county.

In the closing defense testimony, Mrs. Laura Bales, wife of the 34-year-old defendant, told the court the mother of the girl who accused Bales of misconduct had offered to "forget the whole thing" if she had enough money to care for herself and her children.

"I refused to give her any money," Mrs. Bales said.

Bales was arrested the past June 12 by an Upper Merion township policeman who testified he found the school master and the girl pupil in a car parked in a muddy lane.

HOUSE SLICES BUDGET AGAIN

Compromise Settlement
Features Passage of Agriculture Allotment

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The House passed 315 to 38, and sent to the Senate tonight a $447,601,976 Agriculture appropriation bill for 1948, with total reductions of $340,969,342 below the President's budget requests.

Except for the addition of $40,000,000 in a compromise move, there were no major changes in the bill from the form in which it was approved by the House appropriations committee.

Just prior to passage the House rejected, 180 to 174, a motion to send the bill back to committee with instructions to increase it by roughly $165,000,000.

The added $40,000,000 is part of a $148,000,000 fund the Agriculture department had expected to receive next year from import duties. The appropriations committee had recommended that the entire fund be turned into the Treasury but agreed at the last minute to allow the department to use the $40,000,000.

The fund, known as "Section 32" money, is used by the department for programs to encourage exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities.

As it finally cleared the House following two days of debate, the bill carried a cut of 28.7 percent below the President's budget. The appropriations committee had recommended a 32 percent cut, or $383,427,742 from the $1,188,571,318 budget.

The action boosted to an estimated $2,630,000,000 the total cuts approved by the House this year in its drive to chop $5,000,000,000 from the President's overall budget of $7,500,000,000 for the 1948 fiscal year, starting July 1, 1947.

Acceptance of the $40,000,000 increase on motion of Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.), who handled the bill for the appropriations committee, was the only big change. Efforts to make substantial increases in funds for the school lunch program, for soil conservation payments and for rural electrification administration loans failed despite the

Committees Settle Teacher Pay Issue; Salaries in $1950 to $4000 Bracket

HARRISBURG, May 28 (AP)—The Senate and House education committees agreed today on a mandated salary range for school teachers from $1950 to $4000 a year outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The range would be $2175 to $4800 in those cities.

Chairman Frederick L. Homsher (R-Lancaster), of the Senate committee, and Chairman D. Raymond Sollenberger (R-Blair), of the House committee, issued a joint statement at the end of a day-long session that the program "will be within the limit" set by Governor James H. Duff's budget message.

The $1950 minimum for second, third and fourth class districts, had been proposed by Sen. Homsher while the House committee had pressed a bill sponsored by Sollenberger calling for a $2500 minimum. The present mandated minimum salary is $1400.

The only substantial change in the measure offered by Homsher the past week with the announcement that it carries out Governor Duff's ideas was insertion of provisions for promotional increments to be given on merit after the automatic increases for experience have been paid.

On the other hand, the committee measure—there was no immediate decision whether it would be acted on first in the House or the Senate—would incorporate the three automatic increases of $150 a year proposed by Homsher for teachers with standard certificates and six for teachers with college and master's degrees.

"Under the terms of the agreement," the conference statement said, "subsidies payable in 1947-48 will be computed on the basis of $2200 per teaching unit and local

Pottstown to Relax, Hold Memorial Day Services

Combining holiday gaiety and the feelings of a day of reverence, many Pottstonians will stream out of town tomorrow in the first long weekend of the year, while others will remain behind to pay tribute to the thousands of Americans who have died in seven major wars.

The possibility of clear weather for tomorrow and Saturday should jam roads and rails. The Reading Railroad company expects the usual heavy Memorial Day weekend crowds, while bus and automobile traffic out of town will crowd the highways.

Sport lovers will find many opportunities to watch or indulge in their favorite pastimes. The New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Athletics meet in a double-header in Philadelphia tomorrow, while swimmers can have their choice of Sunnybrook or Summit park pools or visit the swimming accommodations at Hopewell or Montgomery county park.

Veterans' services at West End cemetery will be preceded by a colorful parade, leaving from the George A. Amole post, American Legion, at King and Franklin streets, at 9 a. m. Burgess William Griffith will act as honorary marshal in the parade, with commanders of local veterans' organizations as aids.

The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, United Spanish War Veterans, Amvets, Jewish War Veterans, and Marine League Corps, all will join forces in the parade that will proceed east on King street to Washington street, then down to High street and to the Federal building, where a wreath will be laid at the foot of the monument.

The marchers then will swing back along High street to Hanover, marching along the flag-decked route to the cemetery, where memorial services are scheduled to begin at 9:45 a. m. with the bugle call, "Assembly."

Harry J. Ginter will act as chairman of the program, while George Lehr Jr. will preside and William B. Whitman Jr. will be the officer of the day.

The Pottstown band will play at the gravesides, and Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of congregational Mercy of Truth will lead the prayers and spectators in prayer.

Richard LaRose will recite Latin. The Pottstown Teachers' association yesterday approved a salary schedule for members which asks for a minimum wage of "slightly under $2400" and a maximum "slightly under $4800." Fred Dilling, president, revealed last night.

The proposal, made by the salary committee at a special meeting of the association, will be presented to the school board at its next meeting on June 2.

Dilling said that salary figures in the statement are a little lower than those specified in House Bill 417 now before the State legislature, depends upon treatment given the Action on the association's proposal bill, Dilling added.

About 145 teachers convened in the Senior High school auditorium for the meeting, directed by Dilling, elected only a week ago to its present capacity.

Light Shower Gives May
Its 20th Day of Rain

Few Pottstonians knew about it, but it rained yesterday. Shortly before 3 a. m., a light shower spattered the sidewalks, and although it didn't amount to much, it made yesterday the 20th day of rain this month.

Otherwise, the sun shone most of the time, and the thermometer registered a humid 86 degrees.

All reports from the weatherman indicate that today will be warm and windy, with showers and thunderstorms on their way. Friday should see clearing skies, which will get the long Memorial Day weekend off to a fine start.

Increase in Rail Rates To Be Effective Sunday

Passenger fares on the Reading railroad line will increase ten percent at midnight Sunday night, I. L. Gordon, a company official said last night.

Coach rates will jump 2.2 to 2.5 cents per mile on one-way trips and parlor car fares will go up from 33 to 35 cents per mile. Round-trip costs will be boosted about 15 percent.

Gordon said that round trip tickets purchased and half used before the increase deadline would remain good at the old purchase price on the return trip.

About 60 railroads in the East will effect the price rise on Sunday.

The offer called for an 11½ cent hourly wage increase plus six paid annual holidays, a pattern similar to that accepted in other auto plants.

With a retirement plan, a spokesman added, the wage offer might be acceptable.

Ford, however, went ahead with plans for a 10 percent hike for 20,000 salaried employees, to become effective Sunday. It was announced in conjunction with the offer to the UAW-CIO.

Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO vice president and national director of its Ford department, accused the company of attempting to "limit negotiations on vital issues" by eliminating discussion of the pension proposal.

Leonard said negotiations with Ford would resume Monday. The union threatened a strike vote earlier this week because of difficulties in contract discussions.

The UAW-CIO originally demanded a 23½ cent an hour increase as well as the retirement plan.

The terms outlined by Ford today were the same as those accepted earlier by General Motors and Chrysler employees.

Vice President John S. Bugas, in a letter to the CIO United Auto Workers, said the over-all increases would cost the firm $43,000,000 annually and added:

"This added cost to the production of cars and trucks at this critical time must somehow be compensated for by high productivity, continued freedom from unauthorized work stoppages and sustained high production if we are to escape the unsound position of simply passing the bill on to our customers."

The company offered to work (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Tragedy Hits Family Again As Flames Damage Home

A Kenilworth man, whose son was killed in an automobile accident five years ago and lost his wife by death three years ago, sadly watched fire gut the interior of his home yesterday afternoon, leaving him and his four children homeless.

The fire broke out in the residence of James Lackowicz at 33 Riverside avenue, about 3 p. m. Before firemen from the three Pottstown companies had extinguished the flames, most of the Lackowicz family's clothing had been destroyed and the house furnishings ruined by fire and smoke. Damage was estimated at $1200.

Prompt arrival of firemen, headed by Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, was credited with saving the frame structure from destruction.

Grief-stricken Lackowicz watched flames lick through the interior of the house and, recalling his earlier family misfortunes, remarked:

"Now my house is burned."

Lackowicz, who is employed at the plant of the Bethlehem Steel company, starts work at 3:30 p. m. Yesterday afternoon, in the absence of the children, he lighted a fire in the kitchen and, as he said, when he left shortly after 3 o'clock there were no signs of a blaze.

Mrs. Rose Horaski, who lives at 35 Riverside avenue, discovered smoke issuing from the building about 3:20 o'clock. She spread the alarm and then directed a garden hose stream on the side of the burning building.

Luxury taxes go on Sunday

Cigarettes Up Two Cents; Liquor, Soft Drinks Also Affected by State Levy

The new taxes, which have been imposed by the State as an emergency measure for the biennium 1947-1949, range from one-half cent on a small bottle of beer to 10 percent of the net price of all liquors sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control board. In only a few instances have any indications been given that they may be absorbed by the retailer.

Cigarette smokers will pay a straight two-cent tax on each package of cigarettes, bringing the price up to 20 cents per pack. Local tobacconists and chain retailers said the tax would be carried right through on the carton and that they expected the price would be stabilized at $1.85.

Indications were yesterday that the price of cigarettes delivered by vending machines, which have been priced at 20 cents locally for several weeks, would remain the same; the price increase being absorbed by the distributor.

S. Paul Seeders, Pottstown beverage distributor, reported the tax on beer would amount to 12 cents on each case.

This is a rise of one-half cent on each small bottle and a full cent on the quart-size bottle, he added.

The tax on draught beer, under the new measure, is $2.48 per barrel. Of this, the brewery will pay half, and half will be passed on to the consumer. The tax on half barrels paid by the consumer will be 62 cents, and on quarter barrels it will be 31 cents.

Because of the syrup tax, all soda fountain dishes using syrup will be taxed one cent. Fred Griesemer, Peoples drug store manager, announced yesterday.

This includes sodas, sundaes, milkshakes and all of the various concoctions dear to the heart of the younger set.

Bottled soft drinks will be taxed one cent for 12-ounce bottles and under, and two cents for the quart-size bottles, according to the tax measure.

Although this provision is being contested, it is believed by soft drink distributors that the tax will be collected. They expect definite word on the ruling from Harrisburg by the end of the week.

D. D. Bradley, manager of the Reading Coca-Cola bottling plant, said the price of "cokes" would go up to six cents.

It is impossible for us to absorb the tax of 24 cents on each case," he declared, "since it is greater by far than the profit we are making on a case now."

Frederick R. Miller, 78, a charter member of Pottstown Nest 150, Fraternal Order of Orioles and past president of that organization, died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moser, 65 King street. He had been ill for the past two weeks.

Born in Perre township, Berks county, he had lived here for 60 years and was the husband of the late Mrs. Miller.

GROUP ACCEPTS $2250 FUND FROM CHAMBER

MacMullen Tells of Plan For Financing; Need for Borough Airfield Debated

Leon C. MacMullen's Citizens' Airport committee last night, in addition to accepting 11 new members, made two definite steps toward furnishing Pottstown with a municipal airport.

The body voted to accept $2250 collected by the Chamber of Commerce several years ago for construction of an airport and has never been used, and named a seven-member committee to contact Montgomery county commissioners in an effort to obtain a county allotment to augment State and Federal grants for the project.

Committeemen who will visit the county commissioners are Raymond C. Piersol, chairman; Nathan P. Hoffman, C. Roy Bush, J. Max Creswell, Boden, Earl B. Bechtel and Joseph Prince.

After considerable debate and testimonials concerning the airport, Chairman MacMullen presented his idea of how funds for the remaining 35 percent of cost not furnished by government aid could be raised.

Standing on the platform of the council chambers in borough hall, the chairman held up a sample certificate of which he suggested be distributed to "contributors" who would make an outright gift to the borough, but with the unwritten promise that they would get their money back when the airport became solvent and started paying money back to the borough.

Opposition to this plan came from William J. Boden who recommended that no mention be made of returning the money since borough council might change between the time the money was made and when it might be returned and the new council might regard the matter differently, feeling no obligation to pay it back.

MacMullen said repayment of the loans was the only way the borough could say absolutely that it owned the airport.

GOP Senators Approve Labor Measure Passed by Lower Chamber for State

HARRISBURG, May 28 (AP)—The Senate Republican majority today got behind both the House-passed administration labor program and other controversial strike-control legislation backed by the GOP-dominated Senate labor and industry committee.

Unanimous endorsement of "every labor bill" now up for a vote in the upper branch was announced by Sen. Clarence D. Becker (R-Lebanon), Republican caucus chairman, after an hour-long discussion of the measures.

The GOP-majority backed program included the administration labor plan approved by the House to:

1. Ban strikes by public employees; prohibit picketing by non-employees; eliminate jobless benefits to strikers and extend the benefit period of the involuntarily unemployed from 20 to 24 weeks; grant women equal pay for equal work, and continue permanently the "experience rating" system for computing employer contribution rates for jobless compensation.

In addition, the administration plan includes a Senate measure prohibiting strikes interrupting essential public utility service and establishing elaborate mediation and arbitration machinery for such dispute.

The controversial Senate committee measures — lacking the administration label even though most of them have been discussed at repeated conferences with Gov. James H. Duff — would:

1. Set up a "cooling off" period in advance of strikes or lockouts and create a conciliation service to take over the solution of labor disputes before walkouts occur—Sen. Weidon B. Heyburn (R-Delaware), its sponsor, said the "cooling-off" period may be reduced to 60 days.

2. Limit union initiation fees to $25; bar coercion of employers in the operation of union "hiring halls" or employment services; and open union membership lists to any person qualified to fill a job regardless of closed shop agreements.

3. Revise the State Labor Relations act to permit secret employee votes before and during strikes; permit certification that a group of employees has rejected a particular union as a bargaining representative or has not designated any agency; limit to three the number of pickets at any entrance of a business involved in a labor dispute.

All the proposals have been opposed by labor organizations while Democratic minority leaders, lacking the votes to block approval, are pledged to a "finish fight" against the measures.

Reduced employer rates for unemployment compensation this year from a range of one to 2.7 percent to half of one percent to nine-tenths of one percent, depending on the steady employment record of the company, at an estimated saving of $27,000,000.

Revise the State's group insurance laws to bar unions from using employer contributions to buy health and welfare insurance for its members and make all employees eligible for welfare fund benefits set up by an employer.

GDANSK (Danzig) Poland, May 28 (AP)—Sixteen foreign counties are expected to participate in the first postwar international fair in Gdansk opening next August 2. Every branch of Polish industry is to be represented.

More than a million out-of-state motor vehicles entered California in 1946.

Pottstown and World Trade
THIS is World Trade Week. Many trade associations naturally are supporting it. But what does it mean to you and me?

We all know what "trade" is. It's our trips to the butchers or grocers, the change we push across a counter for a pack of cigarettes.

But "world trade?" What has that got to do with us and the stores in Pottstown? Why should we support it?

The answer is as simple — or as complex — as you want to make it.

Take that trip to the grocer for instance. . . the pound of coffee you buy there. It comes from Brazil. That's world trade. And the sugar that goes into that coffee. It comes from Cuba. That's world trade too.

Or the wool rug in your living room. That's world trade. The wool in it may come from China, Scotland, Syria, India or 20 other countries.

Even the all-American hot dog contains ingredients from 23 different countries and soda pop contains imported sarsaparilla, vanilla, sassafras, cola nut and other imported flavoring materials.

That is how simple world trade can be, affecting the citizens and the businesses of Pottstown in hundreds of different ways every day.

This newspaper for instance uses wood pulp from Sweden, newsprint from Canada and printing ink ingredients from dozens of different countries. Our lamps could not burn brightly without tungsten from China. The paint on our walls requires linseed oil made from Argentinian flax seed. Telephones and cosmetics and inks are all dependent to a great degree on imports from other lands.

Trace these simple instances across the nation and across the world and world trade gets more complex. For example, our country last year sold eight billion dollars worth of goods to other nations. On the average 85 percent of all the cotton we produced, 25 percent of all the tobacco, 10 percent of all the automobiles, 15 percent of all the farm machinery which we make is sold to other nations and in return we bought from them in 1946 close to 4.5 billion dollars worth of raw materials and finished products. As a result of this two-way world trade over four million Americans have better jobs.

In a speech March 6 President Truman stated "Millions of Americans—on farms, in factories, on the railroads, in export and import businesses, in shipping, aviation, banking and insurance, in wholesale establishments and in retail stores — depend on foreign trade for some portion of their livelihoods. If we are to protect the interests of these people, in their investments and their employment, we must see to it that our trade does not decline."

That factor is going to get more and more important. As our factories turn out sufficient refrigerators and cars and radios and industrial and consumer equipment of all kinds to satisfy the pent up demands here at home, they are going to have to find new markets for their goods. Or else they are going to have to lay off workers.

Bigger business must have bigger markets. And we are a nation whose prosperity is hitched to the star of more products for more people. But in order that these foreign markets can have the money to pay for US products, we must also buy increasingly from them. World trade has to be a two-way street.

Looked at this way, clear of all the technical jargons, world business turns out to be your business and our business. So all of us have a stake in World Trade Week.

Fewer Autos
CAR-HUNGRY Americans, who have been badgering salesmen for new automobiles, grained this week with announcement that auto production has dropped.

Principal cause of the decline is a shortage in sheet steel which goes into boxcars, stoves and a multitude of other items, in addition to automobiles. All told, the steel industry hopes to turn out 17 million tons of sheet this year and present plans call for an expansion of rolling mill capacity to 19 million tons by the end of the year, a 20 percent increase over 1941.

However, as has been the experience of many other industries, the demand for sheet steel has outstripped supply. Still a long way from ended, the recent boxcar shortage caused the government to channel much of the sheet metal to freight car makers so they could turn out 5000 boxcars a month.

In the meantime, auto-makers and the auto-driving public will suffer.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where violins made of metal soon may be on the market. Suitable, no doubt, for the playing of Tin Pan Alley tunes.

How long should a honeymoon last? asks a reader. Indefinitely, if the bride is wise enough to leave trying to bake biscuits.

And say: A new device is said to be able to create any kind of weather. Just as if we already didn't have too much of the same! Hopin' you air the same.

Some Wards Too Small
To the Editor: It seems to me that while the citizens of Pottstown are bending every effort to improve their form of government, there is one thing that should receive attention.

We have ten wards in Pottstown, but five of them, Wards 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, are very much smaller than the other five. Wouldn't this be a good time to reset the boundaries of the wards so that they would all be about equal in population? Only in this way can there be real representation in borough council.

There have been movements to try to get the members in council reduced from 20 to ten. It seems to me it would be a good idea to relocate the ward boundary lines before this council reduction is put into effect.

Pottstown R. G. H.

Pause for Thanks
To the Editor: I don't quite see what these Penn Villagers who were told to leave and find new quarters are grumbling about.

After all they certainly understood that these accommodations were for low-income families, that it is illegal for them to stay there after their incomes rise above a certain level.

They should be thankful they were permitted to stay as long as they were. Pottstown BENNY

Let's Remember the Heroes
To the Editor: It has been just two years since World War II was brought to a close at the cost of thousands of lives of our brave boys with countless hundreds of thousands others who were wounded and maimed.

On Friday we have a special holiday to pay tribute to the fallen dead of our wars. I hope that we may not skip over lightly these great sacrifices which have been made in order that our free way of living might be preserved.

Too many people are apt to look on Memorial Day as a day on which to knock off work and to amuse one's self. I am not asking anyone not to have a good time on the holiday, but I do beseech them in the name of the loved ones of those heroes that they at least give thought to their sacrifices which are enabling us to enjoy the full fruits of living.

Are it not for these heroes we would be under the yoke of tyranny, and our Memorial Day would be far different from the one we have today.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

NELL H., 20, is a timid little blond. "Dr. Crane, I've attempted to follow your advice," she said "So I have tried to push myself forward and to things."

"We have an active young people's society in our church. The president has asked me to lead the meeting next Sunday night. But I am so frightened I cannot sleep."

"Just thinking about it makes me break out in cold sweat. So I'm afraid I'll have to beg off and ask the president to find somebody else, for I can never go through with the ordeal."

"Dr. Crane, I'm just a plain coward, so I can never succeed."

The magic fluid that makes success is "cold sweat." At the start, we all break out in cold sweat at the thought of talking before a crowd.

Indeed, the great majority of you readers who aren't regularly appearing on the lecture platform still are victims of cold sweat whenever you deliver a speech.

As a matter of fact, it takes several gallons of cold sweat to convert any man or woman into a poised, self-assured individual. But you forge ahead faster by means of cold sweat than by the hot variety.

Moreover, there is no way for introverted adults to avoid this nervous tension entirely. If you want to lessen your timidity and wallflowerism and your shyness or blushing and tongue-tied condition, then make yourself get out in public and do things.

Even if your knees sound like castanets and your hands tremble so your papers or sheet music is rattling, and you feel panicky or short of breath, just remember that all speakers suffer from these same "initiation" troubles.

Despite his apparent poise, even an accomplished speaker is somewhat nervous at the beginning of his address. You can detect this fact by his staccato opening sentences.

"Ladies and gentlemen . . . It is, indeed . . . a real pleasure . . . as well as . . . a decided honor . . . to stand before . . . such an intelligent group . . . as this one tonight."

Toward the middle of his speech he can employ long, smooth sentences. But because he is nervous and thus breathes fast at the start he cannot hold his breath long enough to utter a full sentence. That's why most speakers begin with "staccato" phrases.

If Nelly tries to give her talk before the church group, she will be surrendering to her own emotion of fear. This would be disastrous for she should never become slaves to any part of her anatomy or to any emotion.

Instead, we should make our emotions do what our brain commands. We should always be masters of our own behavior. William James, the great psychologist of a generation ago, recommended that we "train ourselves to go at least one thing every day which we don't like to do."

Most people refuse to perform a certain deed simply because they are afraid that it will be like to do it, they are afraid that it will be like to do it, they are afraid that it will be like to do it.

In this life you must make your own breaks. And in doing what the usual difficult individual refuses you soon rise above average and become the outstanding success.

I urged Nelly to go ahead despite her cold sweat and lead the meeting. She did. It was a nervous strain, of course, but she felt better for having won the victory over fear. That's the way to conquer stumbling blocks when stepping stones to success, as well as happiness.

Washington Election A Crucial Test

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 28—The special Congressional election in the Third District of the State of Washington on June 7 will furnish a crucial test of the western reaction to President Truman's foreign and domestic policies, especially his abandonment of many Rooseveltian principles and his program for checking Communism around the world through the use of American funds and resources. It will be the most significant vote since the Republicans' capture of Congress last Fall.

The outcome may also clarify the GOP's presidential horizon. It may determine whether the Grand Old Party should head its 1948 ticket with a fairly "liberal" leader like Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Gov. Earl Warren of California or Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, or whether there would be a better chance of victory in picking a conservative of the Taft-Bricker type.

BALLOTS: The result may also decide whether Harold E. Stassen has a bright or a dim chance to swing aboard the presidential train as candidate for second place. Even admitting that Washington is not wholly representative of the nation, its vote may gauge the present-day sentiment of western states having 100 ballots in the all-important, electoral college.

Here is why national politicians will stay up late the night of June 7 to read the returns from this off-season struggle:

SUPPORT: The Third Washington District has been traditionally Republican, but in 1944 it elected Charles R. Savage, only 41 years old now and a former official in both the CIO and AFL unions. In 1946, when the voters apparently turned conservative, he was defeated by Fred Norman, a Republican. His death made necessary the coming contest.

Savage ran in the recent Democratic primary as a "Wallace Democrat," maintaining that the Truman Administration had turned "reactionary" in both the foreign and domestic fields.

He denounced particularly the White House attitude toward union labor. He was backed by every civic, economic, political and union group which supported the foreign program of Wallace, who had drawn tremendous crowds in the West on his present speaking tour.

State Attorney General Smith Troy rode into the primary ring as a "Truman Democrat," maintaining that the contest was a sort of mandate. He was easily defeated.

WALLACE: This background explains why, in the opinion of many political observers, important issues involving the 1948 policies and personalities of both major parties may be affected by the decision.

Should Savage win over his Republican opponent, Publisher Russell V. Mack, it will encourage the so-called "liberals" in every camp. It might induce Wallace, who succumbs softly to political temptation, to enter the race as an independent candidate next year, thus threatening Mr. Truman's chances of re-election.

SIDEGLANCE: Should Mack come through, and the Democratic dissension may improve his chances, his triumph would be interpreted by Republicans as a sign that western voters have said to Messrs. Truman and Wallace: "A plague on both your houses." It would be considered a reaffirmation of last November's vote, and approval of the GOP's legislative record in the current session of Congress.

Incidentally, a Savage victory might lead President Truman to make up his mind to veto any anti-labor bill, no matter how moderate the final version of the Hartley-Taft measure may be.

FOOTNOTE: As a minor sidelight, the outcome may determine whether Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, a Bull Moose maverick on Capitol Hill, has been orating only for Morse or for a lot of other people who think as he does.

RAILROADS: High officials at the Capital are at loggerheads over the performance of American railroads during the war, although the roads have been praised by both the late President Roosevelt and President Truman for efficient operation under emergency conditions.

While Attorney General Tom Clark has started suits to collect alleged overpayments for hauling of troops, weapons and supplies, Controller General Lindsay C. Warren has gone ahead quietly and got back more than $300,000,000 from the lines for 1945, 1946 and nine months of the current fiscal year. He expects that the figure will total $350,000,000 by June 30.

CASH: The quiet, businesslike Controller General says that he has had no difficulty with railroad officials. He insists that they rendered no illegal bills, but that in the extreme rush to ship men, munitions and materials, mistakes in classifying commodities were made by both the railroads and Army-Navy officials. The reasons, he says, are obvious.

To transport soldiers from one training field to another, or from camp to coast for overseas travel, the roads frequently improvised routes for which there were no scheduled rates. Nobody could afford to haggle in the grave crisis.

The same thing applied to freight. Lastly, there were no classifications for many new and strange commodities, raw materials and weapons. Never before, for instance, had flame-throwers of the kind used in World War II been handled by a railroad.

In the experts' opinion, both government and transportation, it looks as if Warren wants the cash while Clark, as usual, wants the headlines.

To the "Whispering Smith" set on Paramount's back lot the other day came a messenger boy, bearing a huge box full of long-stemmed roses. "For Mrs. Holden," he announced — and Fay Holden beamed. But the smile changed to a puzzled frown as she studied the enclosed gift card — "With all my love, Bill." Finally the light dawned. "This must be for you," she said, passing the flowers on to Brenda Marshall, who's Mrs. William Holden in private life. It's amusing, sometimes, to note how off-screen names are forgotten, even by the "insiders," here in Hollywood.

In Hollywood

By JIMMIE FIDLER

HOLLYWOOD, May 28—The Red probe isn't the only investigation going on in Hollywood. Eastern sleuths are here trying to locate a stock of valuable furs, stolen in New York recently and supposedly sent to Hollywood to be peddled to screen stars. . . . We hear that Bill Tilden, the tennis champ who's now serving a prison term, will establish residence in France on his release. . . . Credit Burl Ives with going most stellar autubiographers exactly one better; his life story will be published in two volumes. . . . If you know of any stop-gap jobs to be had you can be a mighty popular man in the next week or two; several of the picture studios have quietly determined on a complete shutdown, with all but key employees suspended from the payroll.

Have you heard about Director Edmund Goulding's latest psychological conviction? He's arranged the shooting schedule for "Nightmare Alley" so that all the love scenes will be photographed after 11 a.m. because he considers it an impossibility for anyone to be convincingly amorous before that hour.

Twentieth Century-Fox received an amusing S. O. S. from Linda Darnell this week. She cabled from Paris that if studio bosses expected her to retain her blonde hair until after the "Forever Amber" premiere, they'd have to rush her a few bottles of peroxide by air express. Seems there's none to be had in France. . . . Look for Ann Jeffreys, who just returned to Hollywood, to ask the help of Los Angeles courts in effecting a property division with her estranged husband. She says she has no intention of suing for divorce at the present, despite the fact that their separation is now more than two years old.

We hear Van Johnson is protesting against being handed more than two screen assignments in any given year. Otherwise, he says, the public is certain to tire of him. . . . The "Bill Brice" who carried off second prize in that recent L. A. art exhibit is the son of Fanny "Snooks" Brice — and she's so proud of his paintings that she buys them all herself. . . . Elizabeth Taylor, who augmented her screen fame by authorizing a successful book, has written a song, "My First Kiss," and sold it to MGM. . . . Wetzis about Jack Haley flouting depression talk by building a big new hotel in Beverly Hills?

To the "Whispering Smith" set on Paramount's back lot the other day came a messenger boy, bearing a huge box full of long-stemmed roses. "For Mrs. Holden," he announced — and Fay Holden beamed. But the smile changed to a puzzled frown as she studied the enclosed gift card — "With all my love, Bill." Finally the light dawned. "This must be for you," she said, passing the flowers on to Brenda Marshall, who's Mrs. William Holden in private life. It's amusing, sometimes, to note how off-screen names are forgotten, even by the "insiders," here in Hollywood.

50 Years Ago

May 29, 1897

TOURISTS — The Lancaster tourists, Messrs. John A. Weber, William O'Brien, Horace A. Custer, A. H. Hendricks and Irving P. Knipe, returned home.

VISITING — Miss Ella Smith, of Port Carbon, and Miss Maud Hausnour, of Pottsville, are spending a few days with their friends, Misses Minnie and Lillie Ockenford, 830 South street.

ROBBERED — The general store of W. D. Reeser, Yellow House, was robbed during the night. Goods to the value of $50 were taken. They consisted of shoes, shirts, hats, jewelry and knives.

25 Years Ago

May 29, 1922

ANNUAL VISIT — Prof. John F. Miller and daughter, Miss Mary C. Miller, are here from Astoria, L. I., for the Memorial Day celebration. This is their eighth annual visit on this occasion since Professor Miller left Pottstown.

MAY BRIDE — An interesting wedding took place at the First Presbyterian church when Miss Edith Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hoffman, 623 Walnut street, became the bride of George W. Berkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Berkey, Linfield.

BACK INJURIES — Mrs. William Scheffey, of 625 Willow street, is confined to her home with painful injuries to her back, sustained while she was cleaning house at her home.

10 Years Ago

May 29, 1937

ENTERTAINERS — Mrs. Kenneth Leh entertained more than 100 persons by whistling in the Christ Episcopal Parish house for the benefit of the Girls' Friendly Society Camping fund.

BRIDE — Miss Margaret Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Hepburn Smith, Linfield, will become the bride of Dr. Laurence Van Tilborg, Elkins Park, next week.

HEADS — Dr. Frederic Bushong, King street physician, was named president of the Physician's staff at Pottstown hospital. He succeeds Dr. T. Edmund Wills.

TRANSFER — Corp. Robert P. Keough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Keough, Master street, has been transferred from Wiesbaden, Germany, to Stephenville, Newfoundland. He's with a weather squadron.

Keough was overseas since September. He's a former Pottstown High student. . . . Massage gives relief, probably in a large measure by suggestion, to such disorders as me, cholla and other forms of headache and hysteria, as the Encyclopedia Britannica says. . . . The new Pottstown group is like, . . . take up the housing problem, a much-kicked-around local hot potato.

BACK — Sauerkraut, Pumpernickel and shoestring potatoes are once again appearing on the market in tin cans. And the quick-frozen orange juice that's back now comes in cans that are lined with a special coating developed to protect the flavor of the citrus juice. . . . Fuel dealers are now working against a gasoline shortage this summer. It won't crimp us as badly as the coupon days of OPA, but unless a lot of conditions improve, plentiful supplies won't be with us. . . . These are days of specialization, indeed. You can now buy a "thank you card" to send to an individual who has chased your hat down the street and recovered it for you.

OBITUARIES

SAPORA D. (ANTHONY) SPAYD, widow of Harry F. Spayd, of Reading, died yesterday morning in the Reading hospital at the age of 74. She had been a patient there since May 7.

She was a native of the Boyertown area, and had lived in Pottstown, at 393 North Franklin street during most of her married life. For the past few weeks, Mrs. Spayd had lived with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Spayd, of Reading. She was a member of Zion's Reformed church.

Mrs. Spayd also is survived by a son, Harry B., of Los Angeles, Cal.; one sister, Mantana Anthony, of Boyertown; one brother, Calvin Anthony, of Allentown, and one granddaughter.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street, by the Rev. Howard A. Kosman, pastor of Zion's Reformed church.

Burial will be in Highland Memorial park.

Funeral services for A. PEARL (EGGELING) HOFFMAN, wife of Paul R. Hoffman, 612 FARMINGTON AVENUE, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the funeral home at 139 High street, with the Rev. Theodore L. Fischer, pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran church, officiating.

Interment was in St. Mathew's Evangelical and Reformed cemetery, near Anselma, with William McGlaughlin, Richard Scheffey, John Eggeling, Donald Knauer, Howard Frizer and Ernest Weikel bearers.

Funeral services for MAY R. (REED) WILSON, STAR ROUTE, who died Monday morning in the Pottstown hospital, will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street, and will be in charge of Lucien Springer.

Mrs. Wilson, who was the wife of Richard A. Wilson, of 229 Berks street, Stowe, will be buried in Edgewood cemetery.

Funeral services for MRS. CAROLINE (DRESCH) BERNSTIEL were held from her home at 474 NORTH FRANKLIN STREET at 9:30 a. m. yesterday, with the Rev. Howard A. Kosman, pastor of Zion's Reformed church, officiating.

Mrs. Bernstiel was buried in the German Protestant cemetery, Mahanoy City, with Harold and Calvin Myers, Norman Tennes, and Fred, Frank and Milton Schlier as bearers.

1000 Persons See Seniors Present Class Night Event
High-jinx reigned supreme as Boyertown High seniors held the school's 53d annual class night in the auditorium and presented their program, built around a general store theme, to a capacity crowd of nearly 1000 parents, relatives and friends.
Setting for the program was the interior of a country cross-roads general store and post office, manned by Malcolm Diemand and Donald Hoffman. All seniors appeared on the program as customers or itinerant travelers, salesmen or general bums.
The event was climaxed with a mock campaign in which David Longacre, a member of the class, was candidate for the office of street cleaner. Longacre's approach to the stage was heralded by a band which made the terrible mistake of playing the first few bars of music in proper key. The musicians quickly remedied the error.
The candidate's appearance was made when a small car was driven through the door on the North Monroe street side of the school, just before the stage. A seemingly endless string of seniors emerged from the automobile and filed to the stage where Longacre, dressed in high top hat, was welcomed by all other class members.
The presentation of the traditional lamp was made at this time by Robert Reidenauer, president of the senior class. It was accepted by Henry Zajac, president of the class of 1948.
The seniors then sang the traditional "Follow the Glean," and the present Junior class responded by singing the answer, "We Will Follow the Glean." The seniors were led by Durrell Blank and the Juniors by Harold Landis.
As the Junior class song was being presented, two members of the class carried onto the stage a ship's wheel, covered with 96 white carnations, the seniors' class flower. The wheel bore the class motto: "Out of the Harbor into the Sea of Life." The senior class then responded with its class song, led by Blank.
During the program, Mrs. Martha G. Christman and Daniel A. Rohrbach, co-directors of Class Night, were presented gifts by the class. Daniel Reidenauer read a class will.
The printed program showed a general store scene on the front cover. Art work on it was done by Albert Losh. Seniors' names were listed on the back page, followed by a "box number," which the program explained designated the month and day of birth of the class member.

Hit-Run Suspect Furnishes Bail; Hearing Scheduled
Lester G. Christman, 19, of New Berlinville, was arrested Tuesday night by Boyertown police on a charge of hit and run as the result of an automobile accident on South Reading avenue Sunday night about 10 o'clock.
Christman was released by Justice of the Peace J. Robert Chittick upon posting $200 bail for a hearing scheduled for next week.
The arrest was made by Chief of Police Arthur B. Heere and Patrolman Henry E. Groff, who alleged that Christman was the operator of a sedan which struck the car of Walter Richards Jr., 289 Diamond street, Pottstown, near the American Legion bowling alley and then left the scene of the accident.
Richards escaped injury as well as John T. Koch, Pottstown, and Ruth Kummerer, Halfway House, occupants of the car.
Christman told police his car was occupied by Betty Renninger, Boyertown, and himself. Damage to the Richards car was estimated at approximately $50, while damage to the Christman car was slight.

Autoist Arrested; To Face Magistrate
Raymond Swinehart, New Berlinville, was arrested on a charge of making a U-turn at the intersection of Philadelphia and Reading avenues Saturday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock by Patrolman Grant M. Groff. Swinehart was summoned to appear before Justice of the Peace J. Robert Chittick.

Lock Haven Plane Firm To Resume Production

LOCK HAVEN, May 28 (AP)—Ted V. Weld, vice president of the Piper Aircraft corporation, said today that the plant, shut down since May 17 by a drop off in sales of its light planes, would resume limited production Monday but was not expected to operate at full capacity until more orders are booked.

Weld attributed the temporary shutdown to bad flying weather this Spring which discouraged pleasure flying.

Vote Evidence, Source of 81 Indictments In Missouri Election Fraud, Is Stolen

KANSAS CITY, May 28 (AP)—Evidence upon which a State Grand jury returned 81 vote fraud indictments was stolen today.

Thieves broke down two steel doors in the vault of the Kansas City board of election commissioners and rifled the contents of three metal poll boxes, containing ballots, poll books and tally sheets.

This was evidence used by the Grand jury during a two months investigation of alleged vote juggling in the August Democratic primary election, which attained national prominence when President Truman urged defeat of Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, Democratic congressman from the fifth Missouri district. Slaughter was running in a District adjacent to Truman's home district.

The theft took place less than 12 hours after the Grand jury had completed its statutory term with a report expressing belief that Slaughter had been deprived of the nomination through a miscounting of the ballots, thus giving victory to the President's selection, Enos Axtell. Axtell was defeated in the general election by Republican Albert L. Reeves Jr.

Report of the theft reached the U.S. Senate Judiciary committee shortly after it opened a hearing on a request that the body consider a full-scale investigation into the alleged "failure" of U.S. Attorney Tom C. Clark to act in connection with the Kansas City primary.

Clark, who was at the hearing, immediately directed the FBI to "check into" the theft.

Original probe of the alleged vote fraud was undertaken by the Kansas City Star. In a three months period a staff of investigators employed by the Star uncovered what they termed wholesale juggling of the count, vote buying and coercion.

Later the Star's file was turned over to County Prosecutor James Kimbrell and a Grand jury called. Most of the 71 persons named in the 81 indictments were accused of making false returns from an election or aiding in making false returns.

Hugh C. Moore, foreman of the jury, declared the theft "might mean the result of eight weeks' work by the jury is destroyed."

"To me," he added, "the theft looks like a brazen admission of guilt on the part of someone."

At Jefferson City, Grover C. Dalton, Republican State chairman, declared that the theft indicates that the Pendergast machine is "just as rampant under the protection of Harry S. Truman as it was under Mr. Truman's mentor, Tom Pendergast."

He further charged that alleged failure of the FBI to investigate fully could be laid to what he termed Mr. Truman's encouragement of the revival of the Pendergast machine.

In the primary James Pendergast, successor to his uncle as head of the once-powerful Pendergast organization, backed Axtell and a number of candidates for top county offices. Other party factions combined to support another slate.

Minute Men Map Fly Control Plan

A program of fly control for the community was endorsed by the Minute Men of the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce yesterday at a noon meeting in the Howard Johnson restaurant.

The program of control through the use of DDT was outlined to the members of Dr. H. K. Marcy, chairman of the health committee.

Dr. Marcy cited the case of Ames, Ia., where a community program effectively used DDT for the control of flies and other insect pests. He warned the group, however, against the excessive use of the chemical, which may kill birds and pets.

The group voted to ask the borough's board of health to participate in the fly control campaign which will be marked by publicity showing effective control measures.

A meeting of the health committee to complete the details of the campaign will be held at the office of the Chamber of Commerce next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Henry T. Pratt, chairman, presided over yesterday's meeting.

Class Baccalaureate At Warwick Slated For Sunday Night

Baccalaureate services for the 1947 Senior class of Warwick High school will be held in the High school auditorium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Clayton J. Bates, pastor of East Nantmeal Baptist church, will preside at the ceremonies, which will open with two brass quartet selections, played by Richard Lawrence, Esther Moyer, Patricia Kratz, and Roberta Orr.

Following the processional hymn, the Rev. Charles W. Jared, pastor of St. Peter's First Baptist church, will deliver the invocation. The Rev. William C. Nye, of the Harmonyville Brethren church, will read the scripture lesson, after which Muriel Dunlap, soprano, will sing "In A Monastery Garden," and the "Lord's Prayer."

Other musical highlights of the program will include three songs by the school's girls' chorus, "Salutation," "Come Worship Him," and "Now the Day Is Over."

The sermon, "The Greatest Teaching," will be delivered by the Rev. Ethelbert Yost, of St. Peter's Reformed church, to be followed by the benediction, given by the Rev. Jared.

The school's commencement exercises will be held on Thursday, June 5.

Six Children Share Hillwine Estate

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, May 28—The will of Albert C. Hillwine, 66, a former Pottstown councilman, who died May 16, has been probated in the register of wills office, disposing of an estate valued at $3500 personal, and $7000 in real estate.

The will, written June 2, 1923, had left everything to his wife, Olivia, but after her death in 1937, he added a codicil which directed that the estate is to be shared equally by the sons and daughters, Douglas, Gordon, Leonard, Mary, Myrtle and Dorothy. Leonard is named executor.

Letters of administration in the estate of Charles P. Fay, Collegeville RD 1, who died April 20, have been given to Hilda L. Fay, his mother. The estate is valued at $50.

St. John's Guild Makes Plans for Annual Picnic

Mrs. Donald Kochel, Mrs. Albert Mauger, Mrs. Elmer Wilson and Mrs. LeVerne Schellenberger were appointed to a committee to plan for a picnic at a meeting of the Guild of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church Tuesday night in the social room of the church.

At the meeting conducted by Mrs. Warren Engle, president, Mrs. Paul Scheirer was appointed delegate to the Guild conference to be held at Cedar Crest college. Mrs. Lewis Feather reported on a recent meeting of the Council of Church Women, after which Mrs. Carl Pickar and Mrs. George DeVinney were appointed to represent St. John's in the council for the next two years.

Social service chairman reported the quilt blocks several members had made were turned in to the Women's club at Gimbel's store.

Educational chairman reported six members read the required number of books for credit in the reading course.

Mrs. Joseph Hunsicker, assisted by Miss Mary Bechtel and Mrs. Charles Hornberger, led devotions, the topic of which was "Christian and Races."

Following the meeting a social hour was held, at which time refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Birthday Picnic Given For Mrs. Sara Davis

A surprise birthday picnic was held recently in honor of Mrs. Sara Davis, 305 High street, at Lake View Memorial park, Royersford. The affair was arranged by her daughters, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. Hanna Britcher and Mrs. Dorothy Karabin and two friends, Mrs. Diller Arney and Mrs. Mildred Miller.

Following a picnic dinner, Mrs. Davis was presented with many lovely gifts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Miller and children, Mary, Emma and Bobby, Phoenixville; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Britcher and daughters, Betty and Carol, Royersford; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Karabin Jr., Phoenixville; Mr. and Mrs. Betty Trego and daughters, Sara, Bette and Jean, Exton; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Dukeman, Berwyn; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trego and daughter, Donna, West Chester; Mrs. Margaret Karabin, Phoenixville; Mr. and Mrs. Diller Arney and children, Frank, Michael and Helen, and Mr. John King, Phoenixville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and son, Frank, Evansburg; Mr. Harrison Raser, Pottstown, and Mr. Earl Gohe, Whitford.

M. Claude Auzello, Paris Hotel-Manager Gives Advice on How to Keep Healthier

PARIS, May 28 (AP)—If you want to be pretty and healthy, eat less. That's the advice of M. Claude Auzello, manager of the Ritz-Carlton hotel in Paris.

Because of enforced starvation during the war, the French today are a healthier, happier race of people, and the girls, particularly, are more slender and lovely, says M. Auzello.

Always big eaters and lovers of heavy, fancy dishes, rich gravies and pastries, they learned to eat less food—plain and unseasoned. He adds:

"All we had was vegetables from the countryside—carrots, greens, potatoes, turnips and dried beans, usually lentils, small quantities of bread and an ounce of butter a month. But this proved to be more healthful than the normal diet of the French. Today, fewer people in France have stomach trouble which always caused a high percentage of deaths."

M. Auzello had to get up very early in the morning to beat the Germans to food. He used to drive out to a train station, just before the station where the Germans picked up their food—and get his share for his hotel guests.

Another wartime lesson the French learned, says M. Auzello, is that though people treat themselves like hothouse flowers "heating up their homes like furnaces," they don't really need as much heat as they think.

"During the war when there was no fuel, very few people had colds, they got used to going without heat and they thrived on it. Most of them agree now that more colds are caused by going from warmly heated rooms into cold streets than by living in a cold room."

But of course it wasn't always cozy during the freezing weather and a little heat would have been mighty welcome at times, especially for older people and babies, he says.

M. Auzello, who spent months in jail on a trumped-up charge after the Germans occupied Paris, was able to keep his hotel operating by subterfuge. Only one side of the hotel—Place Vendôme—was operated by the Germans. M. Auzello had moved all furnishings on the Rue Combone side before the Germans arrived and had convinced them it would be a difficult job to return and heat that section.

Later, when the Germans were settled in the Place Vendôme building, M. Auzello stealthily removed furniture and carted it over to the Rue Combone building. It took him a long time — "a bed tonight, a mattress tomorrow night"—but eventually the Rue Combone section of the hotel was furnished, if sparingly.

Since the Germans had expected much French business in the operation of their Paris hotel restaurant, and got none, M. Auzello took advantage of this and when the French moved in to the other side of the hotel, the Germans stayed away, asked no questions and the Rue Combone division of the Ritz-Carlton hotel became the only lively spot in Paris.

M. Auzello had to work hard to keep the restaurant supplied with food, but he's happy the French "discovered vegetables," and he thinks it may have much to do with changing French cuisine to more sensible eating in the future.

Mothers' Club Takes School Children on Education Trip

Fagleyville Mothers' Club took the children of the Fagleyville school on their annual educational bus trip yesterday.

During the morning they visited the Cloister settlement at Ephrata where two guides took the mothers and children through the settlement explaining the beliefs and customs of the cloisters. After a picnic lunch the group proceeded to Reading.

The next stop was the St. Lawrence Dairy where the processing of milk was explained from the time it is brought into the plant from the farms until it reaches the door-step. The group then visited the Maier Bakery where bread and buns were being baked during the inspection tour. This was most interesting to mothers and children.

After visiting the Reading Eagle and Times newspaper plant and seeing papers printed the group were taken to Station WEEU.

A short stop was made on the return trip at Daniel Boone Homestead where pictures were made of the group.

Those making the trip were Mrs. Henry Rutkowski, Shirley Snyder, Mrs. Frank Hutzko, Kathryn and Barbara Bacon, Mrs. Edward Meacham, Jack, Gordon, and Susan Seasholtz, Mrs. Willis Hettrick, Lula Weigold, Mrs. John Snyder, John Warfel Jr., Mrs. Arthur Murphy, Margaret Ann Levensgood, Mrs. William Seasholtz, Joseph Furst, Mrs. Daniel Weigold, Douglas, John and Mary Ebel Seasholtz, Mrs. John Levensgood, Ruth and Jane Wolfgang, Mrs. Arthur Landis, Dorothea Stein, Mrs. Joseph Rosenberger, LeRoy Shirley and Janet Heimbach, Mrs. Eugene Seasholtz, Winston Locke, Mrs. Yergie and son, David, Norman Madison, Mrs. Anna Weinstein, Lawrence and Raymond Weinstein, George Muthersbaugh, and Rosa Besci.

Chaplain M. Baer asking for volunteers, pointing out the necessity of outside interest in this very important work.

Those who attended the lectures from Pottstown were Miss Agnes Printz, Miss Lillian Raden, Mrs. Renee Pollak, and Mrs. Bert Puerman.

Miss Grace Focht Is Honored at Surprise Shower

In compliment to Miss Grace Focht, her mother, Mrs. Norman Focht and her sisters, June and Evelyn Focht, entertained at a surprise shower recently in their home, 519 Spruce street.

Miss Focht will become the bride of Mr. Herbert Hobart, New Berlinville, June 28 in Salem Evangelical church.

Many lovely gifts for the bride-to-be were arranged under a large balloon with streamers falling to the floor.

At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. Guests attending the affair were Miss Kathryn Stauffer, Miss Emma Gehris, Mrs. Wilson Hobart, Mrs. William Reinbauer, Mrs. William Focht, Mrs. Fred Fisher Sr., Mrs. John Obermoyer, Mrs. William Scheffey, Miss Helen Gauger, Mrs. Viola Domin, Miss Charlotte Gauger, Miss Jane Greismer, Mrs. Douglas Bean, Mrs. Ivan Moser, Mrs. George Wentzel, Miss Joan Obermoyer, Miss Betty Focht, Miss Ann Zeng, and Mrs. Claire Sterling.

St. James Players Stage Operetta in Hospital

The cast of St. James production, "Pirates of Penzance" played to a most appreciative audience last night when they performed before patients of Valley Forge General hospital.

Arrangements to take the show to the hospital were made by Mrs. Gustave Weber and Mrs. Robert S. MacPhail through the community service for camps and hospitals, American Red Cross, of which Mrs. J. Robert Gray is chairman.

A supply of peanuts taken by the group were distributed to patients during intermission.

All expenses incident to presenting the operetta at the hospital were paid by the local American Legion post.

She Does Wonders With Her Own Little Paint Brush

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Frances Lee's penchant for making something out of nothing — and an "old nothing" at that, has developed into a thriving business for the pretty blonde, New York decorator.

All anyone need do to have a lovely home is to investigate old junk shops, attics and storage bins, advises Miss Lee. There are lovely old pieces of wood, some with beautiful carving, old lamps and vases which can be turned into exquisite furniture pieces. All you need is a bucket of paint, a good imagination, says Miss Lee, to have your furniture as individual as custom tailored suits.

An old chest of drawers becomes a lovely breakfront type chest when you anchor an old book case to the top of it, remove its glass doors and substitute grille work doors.

Here's Miss Lee's advice on how to do it:

Remove old paint or varnish from the furniture with a paint or varnish remover. Assemble the pieces in line if the top of the book case has a bit of ornamentation, so much the better.

Take a flat white paint and spray or paint the whole over. Sprinkle it if you like. Then out a tube of burnt umber with some turpentine. After the white paint has dried, the umber is applied with a small brush over the entire surface. It is then dabbed off in spots to produce an antique effect. Ornate details may be high-lighted with gold.

To prove her point that something beautiful can be made out of something ugly, Miss Lee pointed to an attractive foyer table which she made out of two old winged gargoyles from an Empire sofa for which she paid $9 at an auction. She gave it the same antique finish as her breakfront, applied some gold to wings and heads of the gargoyles, added the base and top of another old table for an unusual effect.

Botanists estimate that about one-fourth of all known species of plants in the world grow wild in Brazil.

Franco Believes Labor Should Share in Profits

BARCELONA, May 28 (AP)—Generalissimo Franco told a mass demonstration tonight that participation by labor in profits was the "supreme ideal."
He added, however, that all wages must come from profits and that if business income diminished, workers' remuneration also would decrease.
"If there are still some who are serving foreign interests, and there are still siren songs from beyond the frontiers which seek to maintain the ghosts of dead organizations," Franco said, "no one in Spain can pay any attention to them. They constituted an instrument of the service of foreign machinations and imperialisms."

Scout Group Honors Cardinal Spellman

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman and Bernard M. Baruch, financier and presidential adviser, were among eight men awarded the silver buffalo today by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, for "distinguished service to boyhood."
The award, a miniature silver buffalo suspended from a red and white ribbon, was presented at a luncheon meeting of the council's 37th annual session.
Others honored included Dr. Paul S. Stiple, Erie, Pa., member at large of the National council who was chosen in 1928 from 600,000 scouts to take part in the first Byrd Antarctic expedition.

Marshall Supports St. Lawrence Plan As Defensive Move

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall testified today that completion of the $500,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway would aid "immeasurably" in joint United States-Canadian defense of North America.

Both Marshall and former President Herbert Hoover told a Senate foreign relations subcommittee that the long-debated project is, in effect, a must.

The Senate group is studying legislation to authorize construction of the giant international development, designed to provide a water channel from the Great Lakes to the sea and to generate hydro-electric power.

Hoover, who began his public advocacy of the seaway more than a quarter century ago, said if it were a reality today this nation would be in a better position to ease the hunger of starving peoples abroad.

Hoover expressed approval of tolls to make the seaway self-liquidating. The tolls proposal is the main new feature included in the present bill. Otherwise it is virtually identical to other St. Lawrence legislation previously before congress.

Hoover said that under existing transportation facilities, the United States is able to move only a maximum of 1,500,000 tons of foodstuffs a month to ports for shipment to starving peoples abroad.

Asserting even that amount "seriously strains" available transportation facilities, Hoover said the seaway would enable the U. S. to ship its "full volume" of surplus foods abroad. But, he said, it would probably take six to eight years to complete the project.

Hoover, in response to a question from Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the full foreign relations committee and principal sponsor of the pending seaway legislation, said he thought the cost of the St. Lawrence development now "might" be 60 percent greater than originally estimated.

He said, however, he expects "more moderate" construction costs "will prevail in coming years."

Marshall and Hoover both expressed doubt that the waterway would have an adverse effect on railroads. Hoover termed such a belief an "illusion."

"If the seaway isn't built," he said, "We'll have to have an enormous expansion of our railroad facilities."

Julius Barnes, Duluth, former president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and also head of the national St. Lawrence association, said:

"This is the greatest project ever considered in America. I believe that sincerely and absolutely."

Montana Man Held On Bad Check Charge

SCRANTON, May 28 (AP)—Raymond McNeill, 26, Helena, Montana, was arrested here today on charges of issuing worthless checks, and Detective Capt. Edward Kelly said detainees were lodged against the man from at least six other states.

Cities filing detainees included Binghamton, Endicott and Elmira, N. Y.; Pittsfield, Mass.; Hartford, New London and Bridgeport, Conn.; Baltimore, Md., and points in Florida, Georgia and South Carolina.

LUXURY TAXES —

To absorb the tax would mean putting ourselves out of business. We depend on a small profit and a large volume of sales to make our business pay."

Bradley said the vending machines used by the company now would be converted to take a nickel and a penny as soon as possible. The great number of machines used throughout the state, however, means that conversion would take some time, he added.

Until the machines can be converted, Bradley said his company would advocate an "honor" system for the convenience of the people using the machines. Under this system, people getting cokes from a machine would place the extra penny in a box provided for that purpose.

Although nothing definite had been decided by local taproom owners yesterday, Pomeroy Lucio, vice president of the Chester County Retail Liquor Dealers association, said it was probable that the bars would absorb the tax on draught beer.

"I don't believe anyone wants to be bothered with pennies," he remarked. "They are just a lot of trouble."

Lucio said the soft drink tax might be passed on to the consumer by adding the price of the "chaser" to mixed drinks.

"Many bars now give the consumer the chaser for nothing," he explained, "while some bars charge for it. There is no definite arrangement among the bar owners."

"Straight soft drinks now sold across the bar would probably remain the same," he concluded.

A special meeting of the Pottstown Clubmen's association will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon to discuss the new taxes, Daniel S. Drumheller, president, announced yesterday. Since most of the clubs and fraternal organizations have their own bars, they will be directly affected by the tax.

According to the tax measure, retailers with stocks of the taxable items on hand must make a floor inventory immediately after they close for business Saturday. A report of the stock on hand, together with the tax to be paid on it, must be sent to Harrisburg.

Public taprooms will make their inventory, down to estimated amounts in unemptied barrels, after 12 o'clock midnight Saturday. Clubs, however, which are permitted to stay open until 2 o'clock Sunday morning, will make their inventory after they close.

There is an interesting sidelight to the tax measure, according to a cigarette wholesaler. Retailers may be stuck with an inventory of unsold cigarettes on their hands after June 15, unless the state issues some sort of stamp showing the additional tax.

Flagg Union Puts
Okay on Contract

A contract providing for an overall 12 1/2-cent hourly wage raise for all non-production workers and additional increases of from two to 14 cents hourly rate to "certain groups of workers" was unanimously accepted by members of Local 2326, United Steel Workers, of the Stanley Q. Flagg plant last night.

The contract, affecting 810 workers, also cites a ten percent hike for all piecework employees, one week vacation after a year's work, and six paid holidays per year.

The wage boost is retroactive to April 14 and will cost the firm about $35,000, James Corum, local president, estimated.

Although the new document holds good until May 15, 1949, a clause states that it may be reopened April 15, 1948, for wage negotiations.

Negotiators of union and management reached agreement on the contract the past Monday.

A single business' net income, which ever is smaller. This was rejected 60 to 15.

In place of the graduated percentage reductions proposed in the pending bill, Lucas advocated a three-point program involving a $100 increase in personal exemptions; granting married couples in all states the right to split their incomes for tax purposes, thereby getting the advantage of lower rates; and a cut of two percentage points in each surtax rate.

Oley Man Seriously Hurt In Berks County Crash

John Dengler, 45, of Oley, last night received a possible fractured skull when a truck he was driving collided with an auto at Five Points, 19 miles northeast of Reading.

Dengler and John Kledeisch, 17, of Stony Creek Mills, who was either a passenger or driver of the car, were taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Reading, by the Junior Fire company ambulance where they both received treatment for possible fractured skulls.

Since both injured were unconscious when admitted to the hospital, and State police of the West Reading barracks had not returned with the report of the accident by 1:30 o'clock this morning, details of the crash were not available.

RIVAL COUNSELS ACCEPT JURY IN OVERELL TRIAL

Slain Couple's Daughter
Beaten in Appeal for Separate Court Action

SANTA ANA, Calif., May 28 (P)—Attorneys for both defendants in the Overell yacht slayings trial tentatively accepted today a jury of eight women and four men, as selection moved forward with unexpected speed.

S. B. Kaufman, heading the legal staff trying to save George Gollum, 21-year-old pre-medical student from possible death in the State's gas chamber, announced he was passing the jury for cause, a legal term meaning that prejudice or similar grounds would not be offered as a reason for disqualification.

The State immediately took over the interrogation, and Charles W. Neuman, occupying the No. 1 seat in the box, was asked:

"Would you be willing to convict on circumstantial evidence?"

He answered affirmatively.

"You do not believe that people of the 17-21 age group are less likely to commit murder than other people, do you?"

"No," he replied.

Earlier in the day, Louise Overell, the moon-faced, 18-year-old heiress to the $600,000 estate of her slain parents, lost another attempt to win a separate trial.

Otto A. Jacobs, chief of the girl's defense counsel, argued that Superior Judge Kenneth C. Morrison's action in excusing jurors because they objected to the death penalty jeopardized her rights, since she is not subject to capital punishment.

She was only 17 at the time financier and Mrs. Walter E. Overell died aboard their dynamite-shattered yacht, and California law places 18 as the minimum age at which a convicted murderer can be executed.

She is being tried jointly with Gollum, his boy friend, who could be sentenced to the gas chamber if convicted of first degree murder, without a jury recommendation for leniency.

Jacobs contended that any one of three men excused when they acknowledged scruples against voting the death penalty "might be quite competent to act in the case of my client."

But Judge Morrison sustained the prosecution chief, Eugene D. Williams, when he said "All she is entitled to is a fair and impartial person, not any particular person."

Jacobs interrupted questioning of prospective jurors by Kaufman, and made his motion with the eight women and four men in the jury box, as well as the jury venire still awaiting questioning, excused from the courtroom.

There was only one change in the jury as accepted tentatively yesterday by Jacobs. That was the substitution of an attractive housewife, Mrs. Frances Johnson, for Mrs. Nora Mae Brashier, who told the judge her physician believed she might not stand the strain of a long trial.

Lone Clause Retards Full Harmony By Legislators in Labor Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 28 (P)—House and Senate conferees today achieved accord on all but a single provision of a compromise labor bill which imposes sweeping limitations on union activities and strikes.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) announced that most of the curbs contained in separate bills passed by the two houses are still in the final draft, but the House agreed to abandon a section of its measure which outlawed industry-wide collective bargaining in nearly every case.

The House also gave up a provision which authorized private employers to seek injunctions against jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

Taft told reporters the only issue still unresolved is whether to exclude food processors from coverage by the Wagner Collective Bargaining act. The House is insisting on this, while the Senate is dead set against it.

The legislation has aroused bitter opposition from union leaders, who call it "slave legislation" intended to smash unions. Its supporters say it is needed to reduce what they describe as undue advantages held by organized labor at the bargaining table and to curb needless strikes.

The Ohio senator said the committee expects to iron out the remaining differences tomorrow, then draw up a formal conference report.

When this is ready, probably by the end of the week, the final draft of the bill will go first to the House and then the Senate for ratification.

Then the measure will go to the White House and an uncertain fate. President Truman has declined to state publicly whether he will sign or veto the bill. Labor union leaders have urged a veto.

May's Son Reveals Contract for Shells; Marshall Contradicts Defendant's Story

WASHINGTON, May 28 (P)—Ex-Congressman Andrew J. May's son Robert said today that he held a contract for 60,000 shell boxes with a Garsson munitions firm.

The younger May's witness stand disclosure came at the end of a busy day at the May-Garsson fraud trial—including testimony from Secretary of State Marshall which differed with a story the elder May had told the jury.

Marshall, former Army chief of staff, said that in 1945 the Army made "very heavy" cutbacks in ammunition orders as need slackened off, whereas May had said it was "screaming" for shells then, prompting him to appeal a Garsson contract cut.

The former congressman is on trial on charges of taking $55,000 in bribes while wartime House military committee chairman from arms-manufacturers Henry and Murray Garsson, brothers who are co-defendants in the case. The Government contends the Garssons paid May for War department favors he sought for them.

May's son said the Garssons gave him a contract for gunshell boxes at a New York conference in January 1944.

Robert testified that he entered into a partnership with B. H. Cole in Miami, Fla., to produce the shell boxes at the Dade Millwork and Lumber company.

The younger May also testified that, at about the same time in 1944, he entered a 50-50 profit-sharing agreement with H. L. Heath Construction company, Miami, but denied he benefited from a Garsson sub-contract for tentpoles the Garssons gave Heath shortly afterward.

"Didn't Murray Garsson tell you he was going to get you a Government contract?" Robert May was asked.

"Yes," the witness replied, "he said he was going to help me some."

advantages held by organized labor at the bargaining table and to curb needless strikes.

The Ohio senator said the committee expects to iron out the remaining differences tomorrow, then draw up a formal conference report.

Then the measure will go to the White House and an uncertain fate. President Truman has declined to state publicly whether he will sign or veto the bill. Labor union leaders have urged a veto.

In reply to a question as to whether the Senate could muster the required two-thirds majority to override a possible veto, Taft replied:

"I don't think I had better say yet."

The separate House and Senate bills had many provisions in common which also are in the final draft. Among these are:

1. A ban on the closed shop, under which employers can hire only union members.

2. Permission for the union shop when a majority of workers vote for it. Under union shop agreements, the boss can hire anyone he chooses, but workers must join the union shortly.

3. A prohibition against jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

(The most common kind of jurisdictional strikes stems from a fight between unions as to which should do certain work. A secondary boycott is a union attempt to hit indirectly at an employer by forcing other employers to quit dealing with him.)

4. An authorization for the Government to obtain injunctions to halt or stave off "national paralysis" strikes, such as a coal or steel tie-up.

Ten-Day Vacations

Given Soft Coal Miners

WASHINGTON, May 28 (P)—The Coal Mines administration ordered ten-day vacations with $100 pay today for some 350,000 miners employed in the 2500 soft coal mines operated by the Government.

Capt. N. H. Collinson, Federal Coal Mines administrator, directed the vacation period to begin June 28, with payments of the $100 vacation checks to be made on the last day of June but not later than June 27.

It was the first time the White House aides had mentioned the patient sitting up in several days.

TRUMAN TRIO PLANS RETURN TO WASHINGTON

Mother of President
In Improved Condition;
Flight Scheduled Today

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 28 (P)—President Truman, convinced that it is now safe to leave his ailing mother, decided tonight to return to Washington at 10 a. m. (Pottstown time) tomorrow.

His press secretary, Charles G. Ross disclosed that his wife and daughter, Margaret, will fly back with him to the White House.

The President, Ross announced, will return to Kansas City Friday, June 6, to attend the annual reunion of the 35th Division of which he was a member during World War I.

Mr. Truman will address a memorial service Saturday night and leave for Washington again the following Sunday.

Ross disclosed plans for the President's departure a few minutes after the President himself said his doctor had told him it would be safe for him to return to the White House.

The 10 a. m. take-off from the Fairfax airport in nearby Kansas should put the presidential plane, the so-called "Sacred Cow" in Washington about 2 p. m.

Returning to Kansas City from his mother's bedside shortly after 6 p. m. the President told reporters:

"The news is good. She is holding her own. The doctors think it is safe enough for me to return to the White House tomorrow."

A cold, driving rain was falling as the President, his wife and daughter, Margaret, entered the lobby of the Hotel Muehlbach from his mother's home where the Chief Executive spent his 12th consecutive day.

His plan to leave tomorrow came, as a result of what White House aides called "an almost miraculous" comeback by his ailing mother.

The 94-year-old patient's temperature was normal, "her respiration excellent and her pulse good," said a bulletin from Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the White House physician.

Graham reported at 5:35 p. m. that the elderly patient was "still making progress," and that she sat rocking for 30 minutes in her favorite chair. Her respiration, temperature and pulse were all satisfactory at that time.

It was the first time the White House aides had mentioned the patient sitting up in several days.

Her condition, the aftermath of complications developing from inactivity as a result of a hip fracture suffered in mid-February, reached a low point the past Saturday night. Since then "there has been steady improvement, interrupted only once by a 'bad night' Monday, ascribed to a chill from which she rallied quickly."

Officer Describes Attack by Negro

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28 (P)—Capt. Kathleen H. (Kay) Summersby testified today that a Negro's strong hands, choking her, awakened her Feb. 12 in her Hamilton field barracks.

Marion Bryant, a tall Negro, is on trial in Federal court on three counts charging him with assaulting Capt. Summersby with intent to rape. Possible penalties range from a maximum of 20 years to a minimum of five years on the various counts.

Preceding Miss Summersby, Lt. Gladys McManis testified she saw Bryant, a former Hamilton field employe, lurking at the Wac barracks laundry late the night of Feb. 11.

Early Trial Sought For Kidnap Suspects

JACKSON, N. C., May 28 (P)—State agencies began laying plans today to seek an early trial for seven Northampton county white men arrested after a mob seized and abducted a young Negro from the county jail here Friday.

In Raleigh, the State capital, Governor R. Gregg Cherry indicated it was planned to lay the charges before the Grand Jury at the next term of Superior court, set for Aug. 4.

ment agencies or officials in the production of flagrant Communist propaganda films."

All the subcommittee said of NLRB was that it "has given great aid to the Communists in their efforts to infiltrate and control the motion picture industry."

Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), subcommittee chairman, identified the Government representative as Lowell Mellett, former administrative assistant to President Roosevelt and now a Washington columnist. Mellett told reporters at the time the accusation was "too damned silly to deny."

Louis B. Mayer, film executive, in a statement May 18 denied that "Song of Russia" is communistic. He said it contains "no Russian ideology, to my knowledge."

Taylor and Jack Warner, Warner Brothers executive, testified to the solid backing of Democrats and a few Republicans.

Two amendments cutting a total of $600,000 from the committee's figures were adopted, while four others adding $3,058,400 were approved.

In the hot debate on the bill Democrats had accused the Republicans of wrecking the farm program.

The measure proves that "the Republican wing is dominated by the eastern wing of the party," Democratic Whip McCormack of Massachusetts said. McCormack said credit for restoration of the $40,000,000 in "Section 32" money belonged to Democrats and a few Republicans whose "militant fight" forced the compromise.

In explanation of the amendment, Dirksen told the House he had discussed the move with Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) of the agriculture committee, who had criticized the appropriations group's original action and had threatened a fight to restore the entire $148,000,000.

Reserve Battery A Enlists Seven Men

Seven enlisted men of the Reserve Corps joined Battery A, 904 Field Artillery, a reserve unit of the 79th Division, on a voluntary, non-pay basis at the unit's meeting in the Security Trust building last night.

They were Raymond Stichter, technician fourth grade; William C. Lightcap, staff sergeant; Robert Endy, corporal; George Dais, technician fifth grade; William J. Smale, staff sergeant; David R. Williams, technician fifth grade, and Charles L. Wilde, technical sergeant.

The new battery is near Class B status, according to Lt. Col. Frederick Q. Witkowski, a Field Reserve officer living in Hildale, who explained that War Department plans required a reserve organization to have 10 percent of its full enlisted strength to form a cadre in order to qualify for this category.

The first sergeant of the group, named by commanding officer Captain Frank A. Beazup, is Carroll Harp, 435 King street, who was cavalry first sergeant in the European theater during the past war.

Captain Beazup and Lt. John M. Howard, another battery officer, are continuing their drive for more enlisted members.

The next meeting of the group is scheduled for June 24, at a place to be designated later by Beazup.

out details of the 11½-cent distribution if the union preferred any part of it in a form other than wages.

Bugas offered two alternatives to the unionized production workers, either of which, he said, would boost Ford's average hourly rate above its big three competitors, General Motors corporation and the Chrysler corporation.

He asked the UAW-CIO to accept the present contract, which expires May 30, plus the 15 cent equivalent increase, or to negotiate to a June 15 deadline with the increase then becoming retroactive to May 31.

The proposed 11½ cent boost would make Ford's average hourly production wage about $1.50½ compared with $1.42½ for General Motors and $1.44½ for Chrysler.

ed that he didn't want to raise the necessary $40,000 by means of "cake walks, ice cream festivals and bingo games." He urged that the fund raising be kept on a strictly business-like basis.

MacMullen's was the only positive scheme of raising money presented. It was suggested by several that the necessity for an airport would have to be sold to them personally and to the community as a whole before loans would be successful.

Hoffman led this school of thought. He claimed, as chairman of the Mercantile bureau, that nine out of ten merchants would not favor making a loan to the airport committee without being shown how the project would improve their business.

"How is it going to benefit me?" he asked.

Creswell pointed out that air service profits business indirectly by supplying it with items it could not otherwise get.

Hoffman, adamant, demanded to be shown what the cash input for business would be with the establishment of an airport here. "That is what the merchants want to know," he declared.

Hoffman earlier suggested that the $2250 belonging to the Chamber of Commerce be spent in making a survey to determine Pottstown's need for an airport.

MacMullen replied later that he was opposed to spending the cash for "fortune telling," declaring that no one beyond government technicians, who have surveyed the town and found a need for an airport, could tell whether it was necessary or not.

Against a risk involving so much money," Hoffman expressed the opinion that present privately-owned facilities were sufficient for the requirements of the town. "How do we know that a municipal airport will even support itself?" he inquired.

Bush, newly-named member of the committee, explained the value of a municipal airport. "All services and lines want to do business with a municipal airport," he said, "because they realize the permanency of a town-owned port. Private interests may be sold and come under poor management but a municipal airport guarantees good service."

Adding that government inspectors have indicated that the project will be paying for itself within five years, Bush went on to say that the yearly cost of upkeep for the property would be approximately $8000, providing that it was a C-2 type, or one having turf runways.

In the early part of the meeting, various committeemen rose to give their endorsement of the airport idea. Piersol noted that in ten or 15 years Pottstown will be virtually isolated without an airport just as it would be now if it had no highways or railroads.

Shandy Hill, one of the original four members of the committee, told members that the increase alone in number of municipal airports in the nation would indicate the need for such an improvement. In 1940 there were 200 such facilities, but three years later the number had jumped to 865, he said.

Citing the need for air mail, Hill added that mail service is far too slow here and contended that the volume of air mail at the present is sufficient to warrant the service.

Scoring a hit on how present-day Pottstown is spending its money, Bush declared that if $20,000 could be raised for a firemen's parade (showing no return) for its money, then the citizens could donate money toward an airport which would not only be profitable but a necessity in the near future.

Bush went on to declare that Federal and State governments were guaranteeing their 65 percent over-all cost donations for years to come. In spite of all budget cutting now under way, Bush observed, these agencies still consider these loans important enough to continue them.

MacMullen echoed this sentiment when he said, "The government says we need one. They are willing to give us 65 percent of the cost. So why don't we build one?"

Hoffman's final recommendation before conclusion of the meeting was that the borough repair the street leading to the Stowe airport, which still is being strongly thought of as the municipal site, and that the committee draw up a pamphlet with pictures, descriptions of the site when it is picked and the recommendations of the government engineers and distribute it to all Pottstonians.

At the board's next meeting the report on the committee's findings after their interview with the county commissioners will be given and ways of raising the fund for the airport will receive further consideration.

"The minimum subsidy will eventually increase from $700 to $800 and the maximum subsidy will be increased by $100 per year per teaching unit until it reaches $2800 per teaching unit in 1950-51."

While the conference gave no details on the amount of promotional increases, another source said they would get $150 each and could be given to teachers meriting them. Those with standard certificates would be eligible for five and those with college or master's degrees for six such increases.

Membership Gains Are Reported by Automobile Club

A gain in renewals and new memberships of 912 above the total at the corresponding date in 1946 for the Pottstown Automobile club was announced last night by Treasurer C. P. Buckwalter at the monthly meeting of the board of directors held at the Gilbertville hotel.

President William F. Lamb was in charge of the business meeting. Lamb and Manager O. C. Beacraft made reports on the Safety Patrol event held in Washington, D. C. on May 9-10.

It was also reported 97 new memberships have been attained in Schwenksville during the drive which ended May 21. Last Monday night at Royersford, 89 new memberships were reported at a Family Night event.

Following delegates were named to attend the state AAA convention in Philadelphia June 16 and 17: Lamb, Beacraft, Horace Hughes, Royersford; Franklin Mann, Sellersville; Paul Bergey and Wilmer Detwiler, Perkasie; Charles Schell, East Greenville; Thomas Davis, North Wales; Harold Moyer, Souderton; J. B. Clements, Telford; Nelson Gehman and T. B. Keyser, Lansdale.

Some changes in the club's by-laws were authorized last night. The session was attended by 20 directors, including Dr. J. J. Kline.

Receipts from borough parking meters for the week that ended Wednesday totaled $640.27, according to Borough Secretary William Shaeffer. This figure shows a slight increase above last week's total.

Gen. Huglin to Address Rotarians Here Tonight

Brig. Gen. Harold Q. Huglin, deputy commander of the Army Air Transport Command, who will be the featured speaker at the Memorial Day service in Pottstown cemetery, will address the Rotary club tonight at a regular meeting in the Elks' home.

The 40-year-old general, holder of the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross and French Legion of Honor, decorations, among other decorations, saw almost four years duty in Europe in the past war.

Commanders of all local veterans organizations have been invited to attend the meeting.

Bermuda Beauty Shown In Pictures to Club Here

Colored slides showing the scenic splendors of Bermuda were shown by Clarence Smith to 32 members of the American Business club at their meeting last night.

Smith was stationed in Bermuda while serving in the Navy, and found time to gather a collection of photographs in color.

The Scout troop committee of the ABC announced that it urgently needed a new scoutmaster for its Troop 10. Donald Kastle, it was explained, who has been scoutmaster until now, has moved to Gilbertville, and since a local resident is required to head the troop, a new scoutmaster is sought.

Karl Johnson, chairman of the group, presided at last night's meeting.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag every time you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

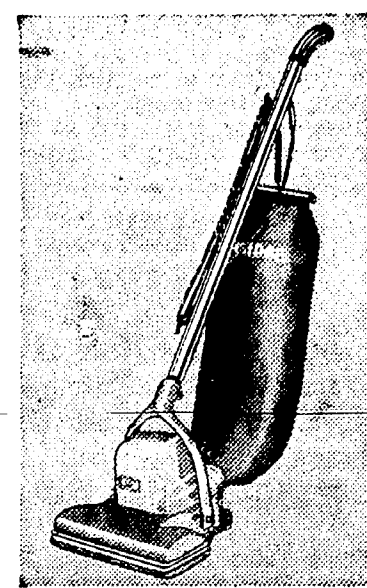

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm, fresh, fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

John Lewis Hands District 50 Post To Brother Denny

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—John L. Lewis has handed over the "functions and authority" of the presidency of the United Mine Workers District 50 to his brother, A. D. (Denny) Lewis, it was disclosed today.

District 50, a catch-all union, was formed in 1936 to organize workers in all branches of industry, whether connected with coal or not.

The UMW president signed an order authorizing the change the past Saturday as John Kmetz, who had been serving as head of District 50, left for Europe as an alternate delegate to the International Labor organization in Geneva.

Disclosure of the shakeup in District 50 leadership was made in the UMW journal, which said:

"Under a reorganization program, A. D. Lewis, chairman of the organizing committee of District 50, UMW, has been given also the functions and authority of the presidency of District 50, by an order issued May 24 by President Lewis.

"John Kmetz, international executive board member from District 1, who has been serving also as president of District 50, has been given a special assignment abroad in connection with the I.L.O. Kmetz left for Europe by plane and will be abroad for several weeks."

Kmetz, a native of Nanticoke, Luzerne county, Pa., has been one of Lewis' chief lieutenants in the anthracite coal producing areas of Pennsylvania. He was named to the District 50 leadership in 1945.

Recently, Lewis decided to reorganize District 50 and assigned the re-shuffling job to his brother.

Ex-Officer Held

William K. Evans, 36, (left) former lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Army, was arraigned in Santa Barbara, Calif., on a charge of embezzling $100,000 worth of gold coins confiscated from the Japanese.

Von Papen Attacked By Fellow Prisoner

REGENSBURG, Germany, May 28 (AP)—A denazification official said today that Franz von Papen, serving eight years in a German prison as a convicted Nazi, was cuffed around by a deranged inmate of the prison hospital a week ago.

Von Papen, 68, former German chancellor and ambassador, was injured slightly. His assailant was a young SS trooper who had been in similar unexplained incidents before.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when the lower part gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is something to "unblock" your lower intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" Nature's own digestive juices to mix better with your food. You get genuine relief from indigestion so you can feel really good again. Buy Carter's Pills today. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

Open Verdict Given At Inquest Into County Girl's Death

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, May 28 — A coroner's jury of four men and two women today returned an open verdict in the brutal slaying of five-year-old Carol Ann Thompson.

At the conclusion of a brief 10-minute inquest before Coroner W. J. Roshong the jurors found that the Upper Gwynedd township child died from a fractured skull.

Her assailant, they declared, was "a person or persons unknown to this jury."

A contributory cause in the death, the jury decided, was internal injuries which resulted when she was criminally assaulted.

Only two witnesses testified. Dr. John C. Simpson, coroner's physician, gave a report of an autopsy he performed on the victim several hours after her body was found in a well in Worcester township, Saturday, May 10.

He said the skull fracture and criminal attack were responsible for death, but that a strip of cloth torn from her dress had apparently been tied around her neck after she was dead.

State Trooper Herbert L. Hoffman, of the Collegeville sub-station, told the jury that he received a call at 5:40 p. m. that the girl had climbed into the car of a strange man near her home.

At 6:55 p. m., he declared, her body was found in the well.

The United States now has plant capacity to produce more than a million long tons of synthetic rubber annually.

Physical Examinations Are Completed at Norco

The Pennsylvania department of health program for physical examinations in First, Third, Fifth, Seventh, Ninth and Eleventh grades have been completed in North Coventry school district.

All parents have been notified of any defects either by mail or a personal visit by the school nurse, Mrs. Albert Trego. If the child is in good health, no contacts will be made with the parents.

Mrs. Trego urged co-operation on the part of the parents in having the proper correction made in both physical and dental work.

Dr. George M. Longacre Jr. and Dr. Joseph E. Tagert, physician and dentist in charge of the examinations, said of the 365 pupils examined only a few showed any defects.

AMBASSADOR PICKED

THE HAGUE, Holland, May 28 (AP)—Eelco N. Van Kleffens, minister without portfolio, was appointed Dutch ambassador to the United States today. He succeeds Dr. A. L. Loefer.

Former Duquesne Head Dies After Long Illness

PITTSBURGH, May 28 (AP)—A long illness which caused him to resign the presidency of Duquesne university a year ago resulted in the death last night of the Rev. Raymond V. Kirk.

The 46-year-old cleric and educator died at St. Mary's seminary of the Holy Ghost Fathers in Ferndale, Norwalk, Conn., where he was ordained a priest in 1925.

At his bedside was James P. Kirk, a brother and city treasurer of Pittsburgh.

State Legislator Urges Hazleton as Lab Site

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Rep. Mitchell Jenkins (R-Pa.) today carried to a Senate appropriations subcommittee his fight to have Hazleton, Pa., designated as site for the Government's anthracite laboratory.

Jenkins asked that the committee put back into the Interior department appropriations bill the $450,000 voted for the institution the past year and eliminated by the House the past month during a controversy over the site.
